City eyeing $1.8 million budget

The Brownsville City Council at its meeting Wednesday approved first reading of an ordinance proposing a $1.8 million budget for the fiscal year. It will include a 3% raise for all full time and part-time city employees.

At a public hearing prior to the regular meeting there were no objections or comments regarding the expenditure of $61,359 set aside for street maintenance, repair and paving in the city, according to City Clerk Lori Burnett.

Local Government Economic Assistance program will provide $19,289 for street repair, and $42,070 is being appropriated from the Municipal Road Aid Program.

Most of the funds will be used for asphalt patching and paving as a result of the city's sewer rehabilitation project.

The contract with the city's cable TV provider, Mediacom, expires this year.

The council voted to have City Attorney Mark Lovell contact cable companies in neighboring cities to see if they would be interested in providing cable TV service for Brownsville.

The city will again this year contribute $340 to the annual aging services contract through BRADD.

A presentation was given by John Madison regarding supplemental insurance for city employees and councilmen. The council took no action on the matter.

The council went into closed session regarding a personnel matter.

People gather beside the Hummingbird Garden dedicated to Leona Doylel and all mothers past and present as they listen to speakers talk about the life of Leona and her many friends, especially at the Care & Rehab Center.

Leona Doyel Memorial Garden dedicated Saturday

Family, friends and residents of Edmonson Care & Rehab and local and state officials came out Saturday to honor the memory of Leona Doyel and honor mothers past and present.

It was the day before Mother's Day, a fitting time to remember and celebrate the life of Leona, and all mothers, and to dedicate a hummingbird and flower garden at the Care and Rehab Center in Brownsville.

The garden includes many flowers, hummingbird feeders, benches and a walkway leading to the garden. It was donated by Ken and Regina Byrd.

In remembering Leona, those who spoke recalled how her spirit, her smile, and her kind and compassionate ways touched the heart of everyone she met.

A marble marker at the garden says, "The Leona Doyel Hummingbird Garden in honor of all mothers."

Red and white helium-filled balloons were also released at the end of the ceremony.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• If you are a stay-at-home mom, you probably won't be surprised by a recent study that found lower levels of stress in mothers who work outside the home than in those who stay with their kids all day.

• If you've been married for 40 years or more, you can be pretty confident that the union will last. Only 1 in every 1,000 marriages of such duration end in divorce.

THE HISTORY CHANEL

• On May 31, 1859, the massive clock-tower bell known as Big Ben, located at the top of the 320-foot-high St. Stephen's Tower, rings out over the Houses of Parliament in Westminster, London, for the first time. Just two months later, however, the heavy striker cracked the bell.

• On May 30, 1911, the inaugural Indianapolis 500 is run at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in Indiana. With the exception of a break in 1917 and 1918 for World War I and from 1942 to 1945 for World War II, the 200-lap, 2 1/2-mile race has been run every year.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You might have to turn your Arian charm up a few degrees if you hope to persuade that persistent pessimist to see the possibilities in your project. Whatever you do, don't give up.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A "tip" about a co-worker's "betrayal" might well raise the Bovine's rage levels. But before charging into a confrontation, let an unbiased colleague do some fact checking.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Although a relationship suit seems to be moving too slowly to suit your expectations, it's best not to push it. Let it develop at its own pace. You'll soon get news about a workplace change.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A continually changing personal situation makes you feel as if you're riding an emotional roller coaster. But hold on tight; stability starts to set in early next week.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Believe it or not, someone might dare to say "No!" to the Regal One's suggestion. But instead of being miffed, use this rebuff to recheck the proposition and, perhaps, make some changes.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You might find it difficult to make a decision about a family matter. But delay can only lead to more problems. Seek out trusted counsel and then

• George Reeves is best known for playing the title role in the 1950s TV show "Adventures of Superman." The role was a risky one, though — not in front of the camera, but during his numerous public appearances. It seems that fans wanted to test the strength of the Man of Steel, so they often kicked and punched him. At a 1953 appearance in Detroit, one boy pulled out his father's loaded .45 Army Colt and aimed it at Reeves' chest. By telling the boy that the bullets would bounce off his own chest and ricochet into the crowd, harming others, Reeves managed to get the boy to put the gun down.

• Though unenforced (and likely unenforceable), there is a law on the books in Tennessee that bars atheists, preachers and duelists from holding elected office.

• Are you lissotrichous? If you don't have curls in your hair, you are. Of course, you may not be able to tell if you are atrichous (bald), a condition that may be caused by trichotillomania, the compulsion to pull out your own hair.

• On May 29, 1932, the so-called Bonus Expeditionary Force, a group of 1,000 World War I veterans seeking cash payments for their veterans' bonus certificates, arrive in Washington, D.C. One month later, that number had swelled to nearly 20,000 strong.

• On June 3, 1956, Santa Cruz, Calif., authorities announced a total ban on rock and roll music at public gatherings. Just two weeks later, Time magazine reported on similar bans enacted in Asbury Park, N.J., and San Antonio, Texas.

• On June 2, 1967, Capt. Howard Levy, 30, a dermatologist from Brooklyn, is convicted by a general court-martial of willfully disobeying orders. Levy had refused to provide basic instruction in skin disease to Green Beret medics, saying it would be used as a "tool of political persuasion" in Vietnam. He did 26 months hard labor and was dismissed from the service.

• On May 28, 1987, Matthias Rust, a 19-year-old amateur pilot from West Germany, takes off from Helsinki, Finland, and travels undetected through more than 400 miles of Soviet airspace. After Rust landed his small Cessna aircraft in Red Square by the Kremlin, an American diplomat in the Soviet Union joked, "Maybe we should build a bunch of Cessnas."

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Concentrate your focus on what needs to be done, and avoid frittering away your energies on less-important pursuits. There'll be time later for fun and games.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Although the conflicts seem to be letting up, you still need to be wary of being drawn into workplace intrigues. Plan a special weekend event for family and/or friends.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your quick wit helps you work through an already difficult situation without creating more problems. Creative aspects begin to dominate by the week's end.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Be patient. You'll soon receive news about a project that means so much to you. Meanwhile, you might want to reconsider a suggestion you previously turned down.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) There are still some aspects about that new job offer you need to resolve. In the meantime, another possibility seems promising. Be sure to check that out as well.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has approved Inlyta (axitinib) to treat patients with advanced kidney cancer (renal cell carcinoma) who have not responded to another drug for this type of cancer. Renal cell carcinoma is a type of kidney cancer that starts in the lining of very small tubes in the kidney. Inlyta works by blocking certain proteins called kinases that play a role in tumor growth and cancer progression. Inlyta is a pill that patients take twice a day. Recently approved drugs for the treatment of kidney cancer include sorafenib (2005), sunitinib (2006), temsirolimus (2007), everolimus (2009), bevacizumab (2009) and pazopanib (2009). The most common side effects observed in greater than 20 percent of patients in the clinical study were diarrhea, high blood pressure, fatigue, decreased appetite, nausea, loss of voice, hand-foot syndrome, weight loss, vomiting, weakness and constipation. Patients with high blood pressure should have it well controlled before taking Inlyta.

A drug commonly used to treat seizures appears to make eye tumors less likely to grow if they spread to other parts of the body, according to a report in the journal Clinical Cancer Research. Uveal melanoma, the second most common form of melanoma, can be very aggressive and spread, or metastasize, from the eye to other organs, especially the liver. But drugs known as histone deacetylase (HDAC) inhibitors alter the conformation of the DNA of the aggressive form of uveal melanoma, which changes the way key genes are expressed, rendering the tumor cells less aggressive.

Wildcats down powerhouse Muhlenberg County

By Chris Meredith

The Edmonson County Wildcats got three wins last week.

The Wildcats started the week off when they hosted district match up Butler County on Tuesday night. The Wildcats downed the Bears 10-3. Edmonson County was on the road Thursday night when they traveled to Todd County. The Rebels were no match for the Wildcats, overwhelming the Rebels 9-0.

Edmonson County was at home on Friday night and had hopes of keeping their winning streak alive. The Wildcats hosted the Muhlenberg County Mustangs. The Wildcats had their troubles with the Mustangs for the last four years, with the Mustangs beating the Wildcats in each of their match ups. Muhlenberg Co. came into the game 25-4 and ranked 20th in the state. Edmonson County would not be denied, beating the Mustang 4-2, and getting the monkey off their backs.

Sophomore pitcher Jacob Webb got the start on the mound for the Wildcats. Webb didn't have his best pitch working on the night, but kept the Wildcats close and pitched a great game. He went out in the fourth inning with the Wildcats down 2-1. With Webb's pitch count getting over 80 pitches, Head Coach Bo West turned the game over to sophomore, Cole

Phillips. Phillips took note from Webb's night on the mound. Phillips did not miss a beat and came in to dominate the Mustangs, keeping the Mustangs off balance with his inside and outside fast balls and his wicked change up. Phillips pitched the final three innings for the Wildcats, getting four strikeouts, allowing one hit and giving up no runs for the win. Webb pitched four innings, allowed four hits, six strikeouts and allowed two earned runs for the no decision.

Pitching was not the only thing that went right for the Wildcats. Outfielders Logan Poteet and Ian Stewart led the Wildcats in hitting with two hits each. Harrison Smith and Chase Blanton each added a hit.

In Tuesday night's match up against the Bears, the Wildcats were on fire at the plate. The Wildcats shelled out 12 hits on the night. Smith, Poteet and Kody Yates led the way with two hits each, with Yates recording three RBI's on the night. Tyler Thompson, Stewart, Blanton, Alex Basil, Cody Meinhardt and Drew Decker added one hit each.

Smith got the start for the Wildcats on the mound going with four and 2/3 innings. With Smith tiring and Edmonson Co. up 10-0 with two outs in the fifth, Smith allowed three runs in the inning. Coach West made a change and went with Webb. Webb came in and closed the door on the Bears for the save. Webb allowed no runs and recorded three strikeouts. Smith allowed three runs, only two earned, and recorded three strikeouts for the win.

Edmonson dominated Todd County on Thursday night. Alex Basil got the call from Coach West and shut the Rebels out. Basil dominated and pitched a complete game. Basil recorded seven strikeouts for a fine pitching performance.

Once again junior first baseman and designated hitter Kody Yates led the Wildcats in hitting. Yates crushed the ball, going three for four on the night. Stewart and Blanton each added two hits, with Blanton adding two stolen bases. Drew Decker and Thompson added one hit each and Thompson added two stolen bases.

Edmonson County was scheduled to play Warren East on Monday, host Metcalfe County on Tuesday and play Hart County on Thursday. The Wildcats will close out the regular season when they travel to Owensboro on Friday night. District play will start next Monday night when the Wildcats take on Butler County. Butler County will host this year's district tournament.

Senior second baseman Tyler Thompson snags a line drive in the win against Muhlenberg County.

Sports In Kentucky

by Bob Watkins

Come visit the Toy Shop where 'I hate so-and-so,' doesn't apply

Not reachable by tweet, twix or e-mail, doesn't work for me either. This week, a visit to that place someone once actually called a newspaper's Toy Shop. Sports.

America's constituency in love with athletics and become expert through the internet, are too often these days a collective of contrarians. Some disagreeably disagreeable. Says here, fans throw the word 'hate' around too casually these days. "I hate Duke. Christian Laetner. ... I hate Bob Knight. And of course, "I hate sports writers."

Last week a cartoonist with the Lexington Herald-Leader drew scorn of on-line readers who objected to his sketch of John Calipari's checkered march to an NCAA title.

The haters wanted the cartoonist fired (sports writer Jerry Tipton too) and called for a 'cut off your nose to spite your face' subscription cancellations.

Hate? This week, a personal treatise on why nobody with whom I'm acquainted, rises to a level of hate.

Reason One: Time. None to waste.

Fans. I like to believe for every anything-goes-to-win fan, there are 10 others bright-eyed enough to enjoy, even love their team, embrace the precious present, and move on to other joys.

Ball coaches. Damaged credibility, too many think nothing of lying to reporters and thus, fans. Control freak (schedule, roster) is ingrained in a coach's persona, but remains a clear second to multi-year contract con job with directors of athletics. Both sides know it isn't binding and sadly kids who sign to play for a coach know it too. Bottom line: Mutually profitable.

John Calipari. No hate for this guy. One must admire any a man who can talk his way into a job that pays $19,583.33 a day.

In 2011-12, Calipari was clearly best in his profession. That his peers didn't vote for him is a statement.

Mitch Barnhart. A pity Kentucky's director of athletics has so little imagination as to publically announce an 8.3 percent pay raise for a ball coach already making $587,500 a month. Why not a yacht, trip around the world ... on the quiet? Or, buy the man a thoroughbred?

Barnhart has shown himself to be another in a long line of elitist athletics administrators at Kentucky who think in dollar almighty and entitlement, i.e. "WE are the gold standard."

Dick Vitale. Who could hate a clown? ESPN's basketball buffoon with a voice in sand, as opposed to gravel, has hung around long enough to get himself into a hall of fame. If Vitale verbiage were converted into dollars, he could pay off the national debt by himself. He sticks around despite having not mouthed an original thought since Jay Bilas was promoting at junior high.

Adolph Rupp critics. No hate from here, despite shameful omission and commission some media created and passed on to another generation as history – Rupp was racist.

To wit: Last week, a cable network promotion for an upcoming movie feature described Glory Road as "Texas Western ... first all-black team to play an all-white (Kentucky)."

The movie title was stolen from a Rupp speech. Texas Western was not an all-black team. And, the Miners-Wildcats game in 1965 was not the first meeting of even a mostly black and all-white college basketball team.

One-and-Done-ism. Close, but no hate here either because it won't last. Fans can spin it however, but it's a naked contradiction to college student-athletics and blatant exploitation of almost exclusively black teenagers, for profit.

To wit: With Hall of Famers Bob Knight and Pat Summitt distinguished records of academic and athletic success for comparison, a college coach who encourages a get-around-the-rules, get-rich-quick scheme is shameful no matter how much it dollar-profits a college and its coaches. BEST OF TOY SHOP?

Tis a comfort to me to know there are fans who understand that sports columnists love a feel-good story as much or more than they do. Great fun to write about ...

Anthony Davis. Remarkably pleasant and poised teenager who is still living his dream.

Louisville's run to the Final Four. Lasting reward? An array of skilled players who know the way back.

Western Kentucky. The underdog dynamic come to life in Hill-topper basketball new coach at midseason and marvelous run from oblivion to the Sun Belt Tournament title and NCAAs. All the way to no surrender against national championship-bound Kentucky, it was a drama in bravery we all revel in.

And finally, from sports' Toy Shop, optimism that more good stuff is on the way.

Because sports is still peopled by thoughtful and reasonable men and women. Steve Kerr is one. He played at Arizona, 15 years in the NBA, became an NBA general manager and now is an analyst for CBS-Sports.

Kerr wrote recently about raising the NBA's minimum age for entry from 18 to 20.

"I can't begin to identify with any college freshmen whose lives would be affected with a higher age limit. I had no chance of making the NBA after my first season at Arizona, much less right out of high school. (The thought actually makes me laugh. As a slow 6-foot-3 white guy, I was lucky to even stick around for one NBA season, much less 15.

"I had the anti-Anthony Davis experience, spending five full years in college (redshirting one season with a knee injury) before entering the NBA at 22. And maybe this wouldn't be true for everyone, but for me, those five years at Arizona were the most important of my life. My teammates from those Wildcat teams remain my best friends to this day."

And so it goes.

Safely riding an ATV on hills

Source: Jann Burks, 4-H youth development specialist and 4-H ATV Safety

Kentucky is known for its rolling hills, but these hills can pose great dangers when navigated by inexperienced all-terrain vehicle drivers. Understanding how to safely ride on hills is important for ATV drivers of all ages and experience levels.

Navigating hills improperly could cause the driver to lose control or cause the ATV to overturn. Both could result in serious personal injury or death.

ATV drivers should know their limits and realize that some hills may be too steep for their abilities. Some hills may be too steep for drivers of any age and ability to safely travel.

It's important for drivers to use good common sense when deciding on whether to climb a hill because if it looks too steep, it probably is.

Drivers should always look ahead for changes in the landscape. As a hill approaches, it's important for the driver to shift to a lower gear and accelerate to gain momentum to climb the hill. Drivers should keep feet firmly on the vehicle's foot rests and keep their weight going uphill at all times.

When climbing a hill, drivers may need to switch to a lower gear to keep the engine from jerking or stalling. To keep the wheels on the ground, shift quickly and briefly release the throttle.

If the ATV doesn't have enough power to reach the top of hill but has forward momentum and room to turn around, drivers should make a U-turn when possible and proceed downhill in a lower gear while keeping their weight going uphill.

If the ATV loses forward momentum, apply the brakes and then the parking brake. Dismount on the uphill side of the vehicle.

One of the worst case scenarios of riding an ATV on hills is when the vehicle starts to roll backward. If this happens, the driver should keep their weight going uphill and apply only the front brakes. Drivers should apply the back brakes only when they've come to a complete stop followed by the parking brake. Applying the back brakes abruptly when the vehicle starts to go backward could cause the vehicle to flip. Once the vehicle stops, drivers should dismount to the uphill side of the vehicle. If the vehicle continues to roll backward, drivers should dismount immediately on the uphill side.

To descend a hill, drivers should always look ahead, keep their weight uphill, use a lower gear, keep the speed slow and gradually brake. They should make sure their path is clear of as many obstacles as possible.

Going across a hill rather than straight up or down can be equally dangerous. Drivers should avoid traversing a slope that is slippery, rough or has loose dirt.

Their weight still needs to lean uphill with feet on the vehicle's foot rests. They may need to turn their wheels uphill if going across soft terrain to keep the vehicle steady. If the vehicle begins to tip, drivers should turn the wheels downhill if possible and if not, immediately dismount the vehicle on the uphill side.

Remember Kentucky law requires parental supervision at all times for those under 16-years-old riding an ATV, and the vehicle's engine should not exceed 90 cubic centimeter displacement. Those under 12 should not operate an ATV with an engine size more than 70 cubic centimeters displacement. All ATV drivers and riders should wear proper riding equipment (helmet, gloves, long sleeve shirt, long pants and boots).

Local performer among finalists in Aspire to Stardom competition

Local talent Brenton Coates, 18, has been involved in Contemporary Christian music most all his life. He began playing guitar and writing his own songs when he was nine years old. By the time he was 12, he was singing in churches, coffee shops, nursing homes, and talent shows.

Brenton Coates performs to crowd

In 2010 Brenton won first place in the Santa's Secret Hands contest here in Brownsville. For two years, Brenton attended the Steve Hurst School of Music in Cleveland, Tenn.

Recently, Brenton entered 'Aspire to Stardom' in Clarksville, Tenn. Out of 800 participants, he was chosen in the top 25. The final competition will be held in June, 2012. Brenton has also entered the 'New Artist Search' in conjunction with 94 FM, The Fish radio station in Nashville. Brenton is currently working with producer Bobby Hamilton from Leitchfield on a CD project which he hopes will be out later this year.

A lot of people in and around the area know his father, James Coates, because he is the host of Wagon Traxx Bluegrass Gospel Hour which is currently aired on over 30 radio stations across America.

"Being a radio show host for 19 years and playing music myself, has influenced Brenton greatly to play and sing," his father said.

David Givens must think you are stupid

Senator Givens says he “OPPOSES tax increases.” That’s except when he is voting FOR tax increases on gasoline, alcohol and tobacco. (HB144-Feb. 13, 2009) Givens won’t sign the Taxpayer Protection Pledge. He opposes taxes, but which tax increase will he vote for next?

Senator Givens says he “voted to CUT billions in government spending.” (HB374-Mar. 13, 2009) What he hopes you don’t know is that he voted FOR spending many more billions than he cut. Kentucky’s state debt has increased 39% since Givens went to Frankfort. After voting to spend $3.4 billion in Obama stimulus funds, Givens approved putting us $2.4 billion deeper in debt than we were before he got there. (HB265)

There is nothing open or honest about Givens’ false claims in his advertising.

Don Butler trusts your judgment

Don Butler doesn’t want to go to Frankfort to play word games. He wants to fight against the bad politician tricks bankrupting our state.

Kyrock Elementary honors volunteer Susie Vincent

Known as “Miss Susie” at KES, Susie Vincent has volunteered there for the past 16 years. She is busy all day for at least two days every week and more days when needed, sometimes as many as five days a week. Although Miss Vincent has no children of her own, she is mentor to hundreds of children. Susie is active in many other organizations, including leadership roles in Homemakers and 4-H.

Susie attended Kyrock School from 1973 to 1981. Since then she has been declared legally blind, with only partial vision in one eye. Susie says she volunteers because God provides her with the ability to see (something physicians didn’t expect), so she wants to give her time and abilities to others. Outstanding attributes expressed by those who know Miss Susie are her positive attitude and willingness to share from her experience in the many areas she has worked at Kyrock. Vincent says, “I enjoy being with kids, and I love helping people.” She has developed friendships with all the teachers, and many say she is a “life saver” to them. With that in mind, another volunteer provided Life Saver candy for everyone at KES after Miss Susie’s recognition.

When asked about an outstanding memory from her volunteering, Miss Susie explained about being in charge for the last several years of collecting Box Tops for Education (a program of General Mills Corporation which redeems the coupons for cash/items for schools). She organizes the boxtops and awards small prizes to the students for participating in the program. She laughed and said that many times children have seen her away from school and referred to her as “The Boxtop Lady.”

Miss Susie’s advice to children is: “Work hard and make the most of the years here (Kyrock Elementary) to prepare for future grades, and always be helpful to others.” She looks forward to “working” at Kyrock for many more years. The faculty, staff and students look forward to that, too.

Motorcycle found abandoned in Wingfield

Residents near Little Beaver Creek bridge on Hwy. 1749 were awakened by dogs barking and the loud noise of a motorcycle about 2:30 a.m. on May 3.

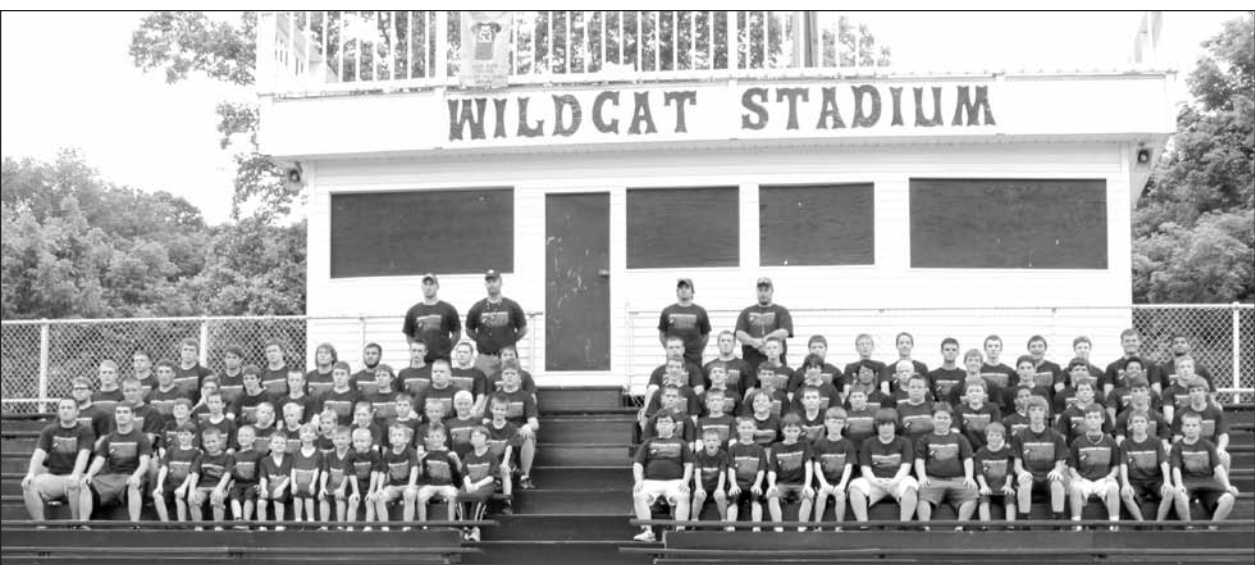

The residents reported that they heard the motorcycle speed up as it went over a hill toward the bridge, then the engine apparently died.

Sheriff Wil Cannon said the residents drove down toward the bridge to see if something happened to the driver.

“They told me as they went down they didn’t see anything, but on the way back they saw a man standing beside the road. After asking if he was riding a motorcycle, and where it was, he took off into the woods.”

A later search of the area by Cannon and the Wingfield Fire Department found the motorcycle abandoned in the woods. They continued to search for a possible crash victim, but never found any person in the area.

“We have not received any reports of a motorcycle missing. We feel like it may have been stolen,” Cannon said.

Junior Football Camp hosts more than 60 participants

The 2012 Junior Wildcat Football Camp ended Thursday, May 10, after a week’s worth of football practice for grades K-8. The camp began last Monday and hosted over 60 future Edmonson County High School football players. Students from all the county schools attended the camp. Head football coach Kyle Pierce, his coaching staff, and current varsity football players all helped in instruction. The campers participated in a Punt, Pass, & Kick competition, learned offensive and defensive fundamentals, and finished the camp with the annual obstacle course set up by the high school football team. Every camper received a camp T-shirt, certificate, Powerade, and pizza buffet.

According to Coach Pierce, the camp went great. “We had over 60 kids at this year’s camp. That number is pretty impressive considering how small our county is and especially how spread out it is. All of the campers really enjoyed themselves, but especially our high school players being able to be the “coach” during the week. At any age, the most important factor in playing sports is having fun. I know they all have learned techniques that they can use during their football career. I believe with their enthusiasm, the help of their parents and future coaches, Edmonson County Football will continue to be successful.”

RECORD NUMBER OF REGISTERED VOTERS THIS YEAR

More Kentuckians than ever will appear on the voter rolls in the May 22nd Primary Election, announced Secretary of State Alison Lundergan Grimes. The total number of registered voters – 2,980,009 – beats the previous record of 2,944,603, set during the 2011 General Election, by more than 35,000 voters. There has been an increase of more than 100,000 registered voters since the last Presidential Preference Primary, in 2008, at which time 2,857,231 citizens were registered.

Honorary Chairpersons at Relay for Life...

The first honorary chairpersons for Relay for Life were named at Friday night’s event, held at Edmonson County High School. From left are T.J. Brown and Heather Rebeor of Columbia, Tenn., and Michael and Regina Alexander of Brownsville.

Tuesday is Primary Election Day —

Tuesday is primary election day.

There are two races on each the Republican and Democratic ballots. On the Republican side will be the race for president of the United States. Candidates listed are Newt Gingrich, Rick Santorum, Mitt Romney, Ron Paul, and “Uncommitted.” Gingrich and Santorum have already withdrawn from the race. The race for State Senator will offer the choice between David P. Givens and Don M. Butler.

On the Democratic ballot will be the race for president of the United States listing Barack Obama, and “Uncommitted.” In the race for State Representative will be a choice between Dottie J. Sims and Phinis Vernon Hundley.

The polls will open at 6 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

“There will likely be a light turnout. There doesn’t seem to be a lot of interest in the election,” according to Butch Carroll, County Clerk and Chairman of the Election Commission.

Absentee voting for those who will be out of town on election day may be done on the machine set up in the County Clerk’s office. The machine will be used until the close of business May 21.
